War's Suffering Prelude to Peace, Rev. Bauer Says in Easter Greeting

"Peace must be made, won in battle as our Lord won it. Good Friday was not a day of appeasement, therefore Easter will not be a day of false peace." Rev. Joseph L. Bauer, pastor of the Catholic Church of the Nativity, points out in his annual Easter greetings to the entire community. His message has an appeal that is especially thought-provoking at the present time. Father Bauer's greeting follows:

"Celebrating Easter in a world that is more like Good Friday, and hearing the chants of peace amidst the explosions of war, makes us wonder what lesson this Blessed Feast can offer in these tragic days. How can we celebrate the Feast of Easter in such tragic days as these? "By seeing in this war the operation of God's law, that without this hour of suffering and sacrifice we might never come to a day of peace and resurrection of our national life.

Evil Has Its Hour

"Peace is not an passive but an active condition; it is not something given, but something achieved. Our Lord never said, blessed are the peaceful, but blessed are the peacemakers. "Peace must be made, won in battle as He won it. Good Friday was not a day of appeasement, therefore Easter will not be a day of false peace. God hates peace in those who are destined for war. Evil has its hour but God has His day. "We will recognize Him and perceive His Glory only by looking through the windows of Calvary. To pass through the hour of evil is in itself no guarantee of a day of peace—we must pass through it with faith in His resurrection.

Easter's Eternal Lesson

"As St. Paul says: 'This saying is true: If we have died with Him, we shall also live with Him.' "Easter teaches us that there can be no true day of victory unless we pass through the hour of struggle against evil in union with the Saviour. As the risen Christ told His disciples on the road to Emmaus, "Know you not that the Son of Man must suffer in order to enter into His glory? "On this festive occasion, I invoke the blessing of the Risen Saviour upon members of the parish and the entire community. I pray to God that He may enter the hearts of those who have prepared themselves worthily by a sincere and penitential Lenten season." Father Bauer's message concludes.

Register Now for First Aid Classes

The Red Cross first aid program advocating a "first aider in every home" will be greatly helped if those desiring standard or advanced instruction will register at once with the Red Cross headquarters, corner of Post and Cravens avenues, phone 1524, according to Casper Clemmer, adjutant in charge of first aid work here. When enough have registered a class will be started and the registrants will be notified when to attend.

Many Cultivating Victory Gardens Here

More than one-fourth of this city's residents are cultivating Victory gardens. This was disclosed today when William H. Stanger, superintendent of the Torrance Municipal Water system, reported that 349 of the 1578 domestic water consumers here have applied for the special Victory garden water rates.

Fire Damages H.C. Residence

A fire, believed caused by a short circuit, Sunday night caused about $500 of damage to the W. H. Haworth home at 1643 252nd st., Harbor City, and but for the quick action of neighbors, might have completely destroyed the home. Mr. and Mrs. Haworth were away from home. About 7 p. m., two neighbor girls, Mary Horner and Mildred Green, noticed smoke coming from the kitchen window and summoned help. Neighbors and a fire department crew from the San Pedro put out the fire after it had damaged the kitchen, burned into an adjoining bedroom and smoked up walls and furniture.

The sponge was once believed to be a combination of both plant and animal.
